

Safety confirmation during disasters

In times of disaster, the safety of family and friends become the utmost concern. It will be difficult for telephones, etc., to connect right after a disaster strikes. Let us learn the various ways to contact family and friends as well as decide on a detailed approach on how to do it.

Using the Disaster Emergency Message Dial "171"

This service can be used when it becomes difficult to connect by phone to the affected areas due to disasters like earthquakes, etc.

Using the Disaster Emergency Message Board for smartphones and mobile phones

When a disaster such as earthquakes, etc., occurs, the portal sites of each mobile phone company will open up a "Disaster Emergency Message Board".

● "Disaster Emergency Message Dial 171" and mobile phone "Disaster Emergency Message Board" drills are held on the 1st, 15th of each month, during Disaster Prevention Week (from August 30 until September 5), Disaster Prevention & Volunteer Week (from the 15th until the 21st of January), etc., where everyone may try and use the service.

During the Great East Japan Earthquake, it was observed that e-mails, mobile phone mails, etc., connected more easily compared to voice calls. Social Networking Services (SNS) such as LINE, Facebook, Twitter, etc., can be an effective means to confirm someone's safety status, and getting used to communicating via SNS on a regular basis with family and friends can be very useful especially in times of emergency.

Household Disaster Prevention Memo

Fill this out in advance!

Emergency Contact Information

119 for fire / emergencies

110 for police

Disaster Emergency Message Dial 171

Contacts	Telephone

Contacts	Telephone

Family / Relatives Emergency Contact Information

Contacts	Telephone (work / school)	Address	Memo

Acquaintances Contact Information

Contacts	Telephone	Address	Memo (relationship to family, etc.)